Figure 1. Left: Sample visualizations of keypoint detection results using our ski-specific model on various perspectives. Right: 3D kinematic reconstruction of a skier's run, derived from the keypoints detected in a series of images as shown the left.